Lee Batte Grows Reminescent In Talk To Council

One of the interesting events surrounding the taking of the oath of office by W. W. Chambers as Mayor and others, was the reminescent talk of Lee Batte who at one time was city marshal of Cameron and made a good one when courage was required and not infrequent resorts to personal encounters.

Mr. Batte told of the times 35 years ago, how Cameron has progressed and grown beyond the village of that day. Mr. Batte is a personal friend of Mr. Chambers for many years and is pleased with his inauguration.

Four Persons Injured In Rockdale Accident

Mrs. John Bonds of Rockdale, a sister of Mrs. Clements and Mrs. D. Elliott of Thorndale were painfully injured and are confined to their beds. Mr. Bonds and Mr. Clement received minor injuries.

MAYOR CHAMBERS CAMERON'S GREAT COMMONER

PICTURESQUE FIGURE TAKES OATH OF OFFICE

HAS LED ACTIVE AND INTERESTING LIFE UP LADDER OF YEARS

When Wallace W. Chambers took the oath of office as Mayor of Cameron Tuesday night in the presence of friends as he had done on other occasions in places of public trust there came again to the helm of government one who may be termed Cameron's greatest Commoner.

Back of him on the rungs of the ladder fate throws up the ascent of the years are written in terms of achievement the richest and rarest experiences a man may know in the struggle of time who comes from the people.

Chambers is a true Democrat—a man of gentleness yet filled with the spirit of the conquorer, brave, courageous and true. His life history reads like fiction, although he has lived the simple life worthy of great eulogy. By dent of frugality he now enjoys the blessings of worldly goods amassed by business acumen and fair dealing.

At the age of 21 years W. W. Chambers found life budding with the promise of business success. He owned a grocery store and a wet goods estab lishment he had purchased from T. G. Sampson. He continued in this business until he was appointed constable in 1891 nearly 40 years ago. He was elected in 1892. Like many men of that school he was early attracted to the law profession and decided to become a lawyer. Subsequent years have proven that he made a wise choice for the profession has brought to him much happiness and success.

The quality of his Democracy records him as casting his first vote for Grover Cleveland for president, Roger Q. Mills for United States Senator and the honored Major J. C. Rogers for county clerk. As in all his political expressions he voted for them with enthusiasm.

While holding the office of constable he read law at night. Recently when the building purchased by Dr. G. B. Taylor adjoining the Square Drug Store was emptied many papers and files of the struggling lawyer were found for his office was located there for many years. The office of constable was by no means a soft job. He had no moments to relax. It is said that he arrested nearly every law breaker in the precinct and averaged one arrest a day for the year.

Through the courtesy of the late lamented Judge W. M. McGregor he obtained law texts Blackstone and Kent; Clark on Contracts, Peeler on equity and others. He was licensed by Judge Sam Scott in 1894. The people recognized his ability and his worth and he was elected county attorney in 1900, held the office for 4 years and then entered the practice of law. Four years later the people again called him, placed his name on the ballot and he was elected without campaign as was the case in his recent election to the office of Mayor of Cameron. He held this office without opposition for eight years and then retired. The Hon. Roy Baskin, his first assistant became county attorney and served with distinction for a number of years.

W. W. Chambers first saw sunlight on Texas soil and he loves his native state with her traditions and her people. He was born in Trinity County, December 21, 1863. His parents moved to Robertson county where after two years they left their home and moved to Milam county on December 21, 1877, his birth date and the family settled on Elm Creek. Ambition the boy Wallace moved to Cameron. His father engaged in farming. He died in 1886.

His first job was driving a horse at the horse power mill of the late Bill Tucker. He received 25c per day and board. Wallace had found his first independent employment and was getting on in the world. He afterwards took up painting. He worked for T. J. Stirman and later took up contracting for himself. His last job for his contractory employer was painting the Odd Fellows building. This was in 1881.

He came to ownership of the Sampson store after he had been employed there for a time. Sampson purchased the interest of his partner Tucker and in turn sold to Chambers. When the pioneer father died the mother came to Cameron to live with her son and continued to live with him until her death some years ago.

This in brief recites the life of W. W. Chambers. They have been full years filled with experience—days when he looked up the towering heights and measured his strength against walls of stone. He has met every issue of his career with absolute courage and confidence and as he takes over the reins of government here the people believe in him. They know that he will not disappoint them.

Edgar W. Young Is Dead At Corsicana

W. G. GILLIS IN RACE FOR DISTRICT JUDGE

WIDELY KNOWN ATTORNEY AND JUDGE BACKED BY HOST OF FRIENDS

W. G. Gillis is a candidate for District Judge of Milam County subject to action of the Democratic primary election on July 28, 1928 and The Herald is requested to place his name in the announcement column this week.

The announcement that he would be a candidate at the primary for the place of district judge was made formally by Mr. Gillis Wednesday afternoon. While friends from various sections of Milam County have been encouraging his candidacy for some weeks he held in abeyance his decision until Wednesday. This announcement will be received with interest and acclaim by his friends over Milam county and they will give him their vote and support.

Judge Gillis was formerly county judge of Milam county, serving with distinction in that place for a number of years and prior to that time had served the people of Milam county in the Legislature of Texas and as superintendent of public instruction. He retired from the office of county judge to enter the practice of law.

By education and training Judge Gillis would bring to the office of district judge a ripe experience as a jurist and his knowledge of law would enable him to serve the people with distinction and honor.

Judge Gillis is a native of Milam County and is held in high esteem by the people. His life has been one of usefulness and he has been found busy in every endeavor for better government and for the advancement of the interests of his native county. A brilliant speaker, versed in law and enjoying great public confidence his announcement will awaken in the people a keen iterest in his campaign, friends point out.

He submits his candidacy to the voters and asks his friends over the county enlist in his behalf and assures them if elected he will serve them with honor and credit to the court to the best of his ability.

Judge Gillis plans an active campaign and will see and talk with the voters in an appeal for their support. As chairman and head of the Democratic executive committee of Milam county for a number of years he has proven himself a Democrat in every sense, always loyal to the interests of the party and never shirking duty when issues challenge the thought and talent of the leadership of the party. Graham Gillis, as he is affectionately known among the people, needs no introduction to the people of this county. He has lived all of his life among the people and they know him for his worth and fine character.

He assures the people and his friends everywhere that anything they may do for him will be appreciated.

CITY OFFICERS ARE SWORN IN TUESDAY

CHAMBERS HEADS CITY GOVERNMENT WITH OLD COUNCIL PRACTICALLY INTACT

W. W. Chambers after taking the oath of office as Mayor outlined in brief his policies for the coming administration and at the close of his address retiring members as well as the present council congratulated the new executive on his course of policy.

"We will administer the government" said Mr. Chambers "for all the people. There will be equal representation for all, the humble as well as the mighty. Every man must pay his just portion of the taxes and each assessment must be equa. I sincerely desire to see a reduction in taxes and I wish to congratulate the administration of Mr. Davis, my friend, for the work he has done in paying the obligations of the city and placing its affairs again on a substantial foundation. No council could have done better than these gentlemen have done. I ask your co-operation to the end that we shall guard at all times the interests of the people as a whole. There must be an equalization in taxation and no citizen will pay in excess of another according to worth. The policy of my administration must be equality to all. I did not seek the office, nor did I contribute anything to the expense of my election. All of this was done by my friends. I realize my responsibility and I will live up to it to the best of my ability.

The veteran citizen was given close attention and the council as well as spectators were impressed with the strength and purpose of his address.

Mr. Chambers took the oath administered by retiring Mayor Judd G. Davis. He in turn administered the oath to Alderman Brown, City Attorney Webb, Assessor and Collector Tyson and Secretary and Treasurer J. C. Joseph. W. O. Triggs who succeeds Alderman White could not be present nor was Logan Green, alderhan present. They will be at the next meeting.

LOW PRICED SIX FOR WHIPPET ANNOUNCED

WILKERSON BROS. ANNOUNCE NEW MODEL FOR OVERLAND LINES

Announcement of the new Whippet six to sell at a price that will make it the lowest ever reached by any manufacturer of six-cylinder motor cars, was made at a luncheon at Boysen's noon Tuesday by Harry S. Snelling of the Snelling-Rice Motor Company, local Willys-Overland distributor, says the Houston Chronicle and Wilkerson Brothers of Cameron who attended the conference have an important advertisement in this issue.

More than 100 representatives of 32 South Texas Whippet and Willys-Knight dealership attended the luncheon, and afterwards a sales meeting at the Snelling-Rice Company's building, where factory officials told of the new Whippet Six.

Details of the new car will be announced Sunday. Mr. Snelling said, and by that time they will be on the floor for show, sale and delivery next week.

The new Whippet six coach will sell at $695, bringing the model $50 below the nearest competitor, Mr. Snelling said. Other models will include a coupe at $695, a four-door sedan at $745, a touring at $615 and a roadster at $685, according to the announcement.

A new financial credit plan which should further enlarge the market for Whippet and Willys-Knight automobiles was announced by C. A. Best, Toledo, zon emanager. He stated that the new plan places the sale of Whippets and WillysKnight on a credit basis which is among the most favorable and reasonable ever extended in the retail sale of cars.

Accompanying Mr. Best to Houston is E. E. Nordgren, also of Toledo, sales promoting manager and E. M. Carlton of the sales promotion department of the Willys-Overland factory branch at Dallas.

Announcement of the new Whippet six follows closely upon two other major moves of the factory this year The first was the price slash which brought Whippet into direct competition with the lowest priced cars in the world. The second was a $150 price reduction on the new line of Willys-Knight standard sixes, which brought this type of car to the lowest point in the manufacturer's history.

The new financial plan is made possible by a contract entered into for a period of years between the Willys-Overland Company and the Commercial Credit Company of Baltimore, one of the largest and strongest automobile corporations in America, Mr. Best declared.

GROCERS ALLIANCE COMES TO CAMERON

A. J. WALZEL JOINS ALLIANCE AND WILL STAGE OPENING IN NEAR FUTURE

The Independent Grocers Alliance of America are just opening up in South Texas with the Schuhmacher Company who has the franchise in their territories. This is an organization of wholesale and retail grocers thruout the length and breadth of the United States. Linked together in one great organization with a unified buying control and a unified merchandising service.

This organization puts the retail groceryman in a position to give the public the most modern up to date stores, the finest foods for the lowest cost, and also, places the independent retailer where he can have the benefits of National advertising while he still owns his own store, does business his own way and be a factor in making his community a better place to live in.

Every merchant is required to redecorate and re arrange his store so as to cut down his over-head, and he also must keep his store a credit to the community in which he operates.

The I. G. A. has been operating now for about eighteen months and in that time has grown from a small start of three wholesalers to a National organization.

The wholesalers in this organization are among the best rated business men in their line. The Schuhmacher Company sponsoring the organiationz as the first wholesaler in Texas and at their expense, this plan is being put in operation in their local territory.

The Schuhmacher Company spent time and money giving this plan a thorough investigation. H. T. Cottam, of New Orleans, Tyler Grocery Company of Birmingham, Ala., J. P. Fargason of Memphis, Tenn., and wholesalers who have been operating under this plan for the past year recommend very highly to all wholesalers and retailers who can take advantage of the opportunity to get into the Independent Grocers Alliance.

A. J. Walzel has joined this Alliance and will have his opening for the people of this section in the near future.

It is felt that the City of Cameron is fortunate indeed in that it's local merchants have the vision to take this step and thereby keep out the chain store organization and at the same time give all people the advantage of the best possible prices through the I. G. A. buying power.

The effect of chain stores in a small community is to merely demoralize and retard community growth through the skimming off of local profits and sending it to Wall Street.

Heartiest congratulations and best wishes are extended to Mr. Walzel in his new undertaking.

The Hearne Democrat of Friday April 13 carried an account of the death of J. H. Tabor of Chriesman. He is survided by his wife and seven children of whom is Mrs. Tom Stroaner of Cameron who attended the funeral at Chriesman Thursday. Friends of Mrs. Stroaner extend to her heartfelt sympathy in the loss of her father.

Texas and Texans

By Will H. Mayes

Public Health Campaigns

Fully 150 Texas cities and towns conducted "health campaigns" of some kind during the first week in April, which was designated as "Health Week." In some of these, the campaign was in the nature of a general clean-up of unsightly and unhealthful accumulations of the past year—a sort of tidying up for spring after the fashion of the old time annual house-cleaning—a united effort to make the place a bit more attractive looking. Some forty towns started movements for mosquito control. Others joined in the movement throughout the surrounding country for the extermination of rats and mice. In a large number of places the campaign was educational in character, taking the form of health plays, play-ground activities, better baby contests, lecturers, health sermons, poster contests and newspaper articles.

Perhaps we have yet to learn in Texas that intermittent health campaigns, while accomplishing some good are far from what they should be in getting results. Every city, every community, needs a permanent public health committee composed of people willing to work, and having official authority to carry on health activities and to make and enforce health regulations—not for a week, but every week in the year.

More Cheese Factories

Round Rock has become the Mecca for Texas towns considering the building of cheese factories. When the factory was organized there last year cheese factories were almost unknown in Texas, and many people wagged their heads and predicted a failure for the enterprise. It started off slowly, and that caused more head-wagging. In less than three months it demonstrated that such an enterprise could be as successfully conducted in Texas as anywhere else. Now, other towns are wanting cheese factories, and almost every day there is a pilgrimage from some Texas town to Round Rock to learn just how cheese-making is done there. Rockdale and Bartlett are among the latest towns to study such an enterprise.

Town Planning

Mt. Pleasant can hardly be called a city. It is a big town in East Texas, but not too small to emulate the plans of the larger 'burgs'. So. Mt. Pleasant has appointed a city plan commission just like some of the large places, have done, and that commission is working out a taxation plan, a street naming plan, free mail delivery, an advertising campaign, more paving, a municipal band, fire prevention regulations, traffic laws, city beautification and a lot of other things. If this work is kept up, Mt. Pleasant will be a sure-enough city with all the airs of a city in a short time. A vision is as essential for city growth as for individual growth.

Studying at College

Here is an idea from Taylor that should be worth something. Citizens of that town are organizing a caravan to go to the A. & M. College to spend a day studying poultry, livestock, and agriculture. The town folks will ask their country neighbors to go with them. Country folks having cars will take along such as have no cars, and a real inspection and study will be made at the College of such things as each person is most interested in. It is hard to estimate the value of a day spent in this way, for everyone will get new ideas and new inspiration from such a trip. There may not be a college close enough to your town to be visited in a day, but doubtless there is something near enough to you to make a neighborly trip advantageous. And think, what an outing it could be made.

Another Good Idea

Last year the Crowell banks, co-operating with the Foard county farm agent, loaned the money to 24 boy club members in the county with which to buy pure-bred Jerseys. Each of the members agreed to plant and cultivate five acres of cotton, the proceeds from which was to be used in paying off the notes, as most of the cattle bought were young Jersey heifers. The banks have collected 100 per cent on their loans to the boys and every member has reported a surplus of from $45 to $300, in addition to the ownership of a Jersey cow. Perhaps an even greater result has been the business confidence the boys have gained. The banks, too, have made permanent customers of these boys.

Dalhart Celebrates

Dalhart has obtained natural gas and naturally Dalhart is glad. To show its jubilant feeling the council and the chamber of commerce gave a town celebration and placed a jet 40 feet high on the court house lawn, the jet being left to burn all night to let the town and surrounding country see what Dalhart had achieved. Securing natural gas is a forward movement of which any place may be proud.

Dairy Interest Shown

The interest in dairying as a leading industry of the Panhandle-Plains country was shown at the dairy show at Plainview the first week in April, there being 241 registered cows exhibited, in addition to some 60 or 70 high quality grade cows. People attended the show from as far away as Alhart, Canadian and Clarendon. Lubbock, Lamesa, Tahoka, Slaton, Crowell, Floydada, Silverton and Hale Center were largely represented.

"Pave Every Street"

Pharr started a 'Pave Every Street' campaign using that phrase as a slogan, in the early part of 1927, and so closely has the city stuck to its purpose that in a few months the slogan will be obsolete because there will be no more streets left to pave. Can any other Texas town make as good a showing on street paving?

Another Air-Mail Route

A movement is on foot to secure an air-mail route from Waco to San Angelo via Brownwood, connecting at Waco with the New York-Chicago-Texas-Mexico route. Brownwood and San Angelo will both provide the necessary airports and comply with all requirements to secure the service.

Tribute to Warden Speer

Captain N. L. Speer, warden of the Huntsville penitentiary, has asked that his resignation be accepted. Five hundred prisoners signed a petition urging that he be retained and slipped it out of the walls for fear the Captain might intercept it and not allow it to be mailed. Could a greater tribute than that be paid an officer? It speaks volumes for his efficiency and shows that he should not resign.

Bridge Party

Mrs. W. B. Levy was hostess to a party last Thursday when she entertained with bridge from 3:30 to 6:30 o'clock at her apartment on East Thirteenth Street.

Red and white was the color scheme featured throughout the afternoon in decorations and luncheon. Red amaryllis and white flag lilies in floor baskets and vases with tall red candles placed about, very beautifully carried out the color scheme.

After five spirited games the hostess was assisted by Mrs. Mack Fox in serving cream chicken in patty shells fruit salad with cream topped with cherry, crackers, tea, ice cream and baskets filled with fresh strawberries topped with whipped cream. In the center of each table was placed a dainty linen guest towel wrapped in white paper tied with red ribbon. In the cuts these were won by Mesdames W. R. Hoover, Roy Jeter, W. O. Newton, Arthur Hugh Baskin and McElroy of Rogers. High score prize was awarded Mrs. A. J. Triggs, a linen luncheon set. Low prize to Mrs. Jas. Watson, a leather porch pillow. During the afternoon a splendid radio program was enjoyed. Out of town guests were Mesdames A. L. Levy, W. P. Bough, Watt Skinner and Robt. McElroy of Rogers.

Latin Tournament

Miss Velda Walker, the popular Latin teacher of Yoe High accompanied the latin pupils of the school to Waco Friday to enter the High School. Latin contest held there. All high schools from several districts were represented. Cameron won no honor but made fine records. Those attending were Misses Imogene Sapp and Marjorie Dusek from the Freshman clases Misses Frances Sharpe and Bonnelle Neinast from the second year class; Miss Florence Atkinson and James Markham from the fourth year class. Julia Mae McCullum and Dorcas Batte and Miss Mae Marshall went as guests.

Boys See Champion

The United States Davis cup tennis team played in Austin Friday afternoon. The team was headed by Bill Tilden, other players were John Hennessey, Wilmer Allison and Arnold Jones.

There were 1500 spectators, all the team displayed a premier hand of tennis. After playing in Houston the team will go to Fort Worth. Cyrus Miller, Paul Werner, Harvey Yoe and Vernon Slocomb were invited to Austin by Mr. Thomas A. Holland, coach of Austin High school who made the day for these boys a very pleasant one.

Hudson Motor Is Seen Operating On Kerosene As Fuel

Proof that Hudson Super-Six cars, with the new type high compression motor, will operate on any type of fuel, was given in a recent test near St. Louis, Mo., where a Super-Six sedan was driven over varying roads at 40 miles an hour with kerosene as fuel. News of this demonstration has just been received by Horstmann Brothers, Hudson Essex dealers here, from the Hudson Motor Car Company.

With the test observed by newspaper representatives, the car operated as smoothly and satisfactorily on the kerosine as on high test gas, according to the reports. Even on hills the low test fuel is said to have presented no difficulties. A check-up showed that the big Super-Six sedan averaged 15.1 miles per galion of the kerosine. On the return trip to St. Louis ,as a matter of comparison, the fuel was changed to ordinary gasoline, the car's mileage on this fuel was 17.9 miles to the gallon.

"The successful operation of this Hudson car on such extremely low-test fuel," said Mr. Horstmann, "is due to the new motor with which all Hudson Super-Six models are equipped—a high compression type engine designed for the consumption of 'any old gas.' What the Hudson did in this instance is due to new and exclusive features of modern high compression design.

"The current Hudson and Essex motors are both of this high compression type. While the Hudson motor is technically known as the F-head type and the Essex motor as the L-head, these distinctions are chiefly due to adapting design to motor size. Both motors have the same results so far as the owner is concerned. Each motor is designed according to the requirements of its particular size.

"The trend toward motor car design is strongly in the direction of high compression motors. Hudson and Essex have taken the lead in this field because the high compression motors designed by their engineers do not need premium-price fuels for successful operation. Any ordinary motor fuel purchased at any wayside station will brin gsatisfactory and even strikingly successful results. The cars provide an amazing standard of performance and a fuel economy which is the result of skilled and original design."

Strong the Family Praise!

Houston, Texas.—"I wish to say Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been a blessing to our family, especially in one daughter's case. She was in a serious condition with woman's weakness and just about past going when we decided to try one more remedy we had heard of — the 'Favorite Prescription.' Well, a few bottles of this helped her so she has never had any more trouble of the kind. So it is no wonder that we have depended wholly upon this one remedy ever since for all such ailments."—Mrs. Emma Allen, 313 Hogan St.

MUST KEEP PLEDGE SAY 200 DEMOCRATS

LEADERS INVITE DEBATE FROM FACTIONS IN THE PRIMARY

Dallas, Tex., April 16.—Some 200 Texas democrats meeting here Monday adopted resolutions seeking to enforce the democratic party loyalty pledge in reference to participants in the precincts and county conventions and broadcast what constituted a challenge for a triangular debate on the respective resolutions of the organizations of Texas democrats.

Senator Thomas B. Love and Governor Dan Moody would be among the speakers to be invited to address voters at the debate. Mr. Bailey defined the meeting as that of democrats while terming the other two organizations "bolting democrats" and "appealing democrats," according to the resolutions they have adopted and principles their leaders have proclaimed.

Senator Bailey scored those who indicated they will bolt the party if the nominees on the national ticket are not to their liking.

"We are not going to appeal to democrats to take the party nominee support pledge. We are going to compel them to take it or get out," he said. "Certain ones in the pulpits, on the street corners and elsewhere are advising folks to take the pledge and then break it if they don't like the nominees of the Houston convention.

"Well, it's practically certain they won't like those nominees."

Black-Draught Makes Her Feel Fit, Says Missouri Lady.

Mrs. Anna M. Hanley, 2506 Brighton Street, Kansas City, Mo., says:

"I have found Black-Draught a most satisfactory medicine for constipation, with which ailment I was troubled for a long time.

"Often I suffered from severe headaches which came, I think, from absorbed poisons. I had a dull, sluggish feeling, and my work was accomplished only by great efforts.

"I had heard about Black-Draught, so I decided to try it, and am thankful to say I was greatly benefited after taking it.

"Black-Draught relieved my constipation and, after I had over-come that condition, I found the other troubles disappeared, too."

TOM CONNALLY OPENS CAMPAIGN AT BELTON

CONGRESSMAN RECITES 32 TOPICS INTERESTED TO U. S. AFFAIRS

Belton, Texas, April 17,—Thirty-two topics, all of them of paramount interest in the affairs of the United States today were subjected to keen and incisive analysis in the speech of Tom Conally of Marlin opening his campaign here this afternoon in his candidacy for the place of junior United States Senator from Texas. From Austin on the south to Dallas on the north there came a vast host of admirers of the Marlin Congressman to cheer him in the beginning of what is exepcted to be a campaign typically Texan in its intensity. Not alone was it a central Texas audience but there were scores of others here from far distant points in Texas. The crowd naturally was heaviest from the counties of the Eleventh Congressional district which he has served in Congress for twelve years, and roads from all directions converging at Belton brought long caravans of automobiles.

Mayor A. E. Taylor presided as master of ceremonies and Tom S. Henderson of Cameron warrior in forty years of political crusading in Texas introduced Connally.

Brief recital of his service in Congress and passing references to the fact that in the only two contests he has had for renomination since his election in 1916 he won by majorities of 22,500 and 26,500 votes were preludes to the speech which was devotel almost entirely to the views that he entertains on public questions and to his battle record in the House of Representatives in support of his convictions.

The subjects embraced included Farm Legislation and Farm Relief, the Eighteenth Amendment and Law Enforcement, Railroad Rates, Regulation of Cotton Exchanges, Veterans of the World War and the War with Spain, Nicaragua, Rivers and Harbors, the Tariff, Muscle Shoals, National Defense, Good Roads, Postal Legislation, Immigration, Aviation, War Debts of European Countries, Taxation, Legislation initiated, New Uses for Cotton, Census of Cotton Carry-Over, Special Interests, Monolopy and the Trusts, Federal Trade Commission, Investigation Power Trusts, Labor, Waters of the Rio Grande, Campaign Expenditures, Will support nominee, Ku Klux Kan, Group Government, The Constitution.

Extraordinary succinctness and brevity characterized most of these topics. To some of them he has devoted more space and at greater length has set out his views. He makes it plain that he has since of voting age voted for local option and all forms of prohibition and in Congress has stood consistently for its faithful and efficient enforcement. He favors the repeal of Section 15-A of the Esch-Cummins trasportation Act, the restoration of a "reasonable rate" as a basis of rate making and he points out that as long ago as May 26, 1921 he introduced a bill seeking that repeal, after he had voted against the original bill. likewise he favors a comprehensive survey and readjustment of the whole rate structure.

In a discussion of Nicaragua he takes the stand that he has taken in several addresses in Texas already. He is vigorously opposed to the course that the United States Department has followed in its intervention in the internal affairs of Nicoragua.

"Not one American civilian has been killed in Nicaragua," he said, "and no American property has been destroyed. A considerable number of American marines have been killed and wounded in the unauthorized war in Nicaragua. The blood of American boys is too dear to pour out in the wilderness in Nicaragua in guerilla warfare."

The importance of Texas ports to the prosperity of the State and the whole southwest were stressed by Connally. As a representative in Congress from an inland district these projects have had his continued support and he made it plain he will continue to work for all Gulf of Mexico projects along with the Houston ship channel and the inter-coastal canal.

He declared that so long as naval armanent is not limited by agreement of the great nations he favors the maintenance of a navy adequate to this country's every national need. Though he is for proper prepardness through the grant of liberal appropriations for the national guard, organized reserves, reserved officers' training corps and citizens military training camps, he said, a large standing army in time of peace was not necessary and is both expensive and dangerous to liberty and to peace.

In the speech he stressed the vital importance of aviation both as an instrument of defense for both the army and navy and to the commercial development of this country. He declared for the extension of the uses of airplanes in mail service.

As a democrat he declared against high protective tariffs. He said he spoke and voted against the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill but favored a competitive tariff with rates adjusted to equalize the costs of production at home and abroad. As long as the government is committed to a tariff policy he favored the inclusion of farm and ranch products. Farmers and ranchmen, he said, are as much entitled to tariff protection as the manufacturers.

Development and extension of federal aid in road building programs throughout the United States was endorsed and he pointed out that Texas received more money from this source than any other state.

He said that he had voted to adjust salaries or postal employees to equalize them with others in government service, who had received larger pay.

In the matter if immigration, he said that he had supported the restricted policy, had voted against Japanese immigration and took an active part in precenting the administration from handling that question by a "Gentlemen's agreement," a policy that would have given immigration the standing of an international question instead of the purely domestic question that it is. He declared that he is against the cancellation of war debts due this country by European nations. Their payment, he said, would relieve the burden of American tax-payers.

As one admitting the necessity of meeting the many billions in liberty bonds and war obligations by federal taxation, he declared for a taxing standard of graduated rates with a reasonable exemption. He has, he said, stood for adjusting income and other taxes so as to place the heavier burden upon those most able to bear it, but he stressed however, "the fact that the payment of taxes in some amount quickens the responsibility of the citizen and increases his interest in an economical administration of the government." He said that he had voted recently for the repeal of the nuisance taxes which were levied as excise tax on automobiles and the war measures.

In a section of his speech denouncing in terms of scorn and vigor, Republican corruption in high office that has characterized its national administration of affairs, he voiced the belief that a united democracy can win a sweeping victory in the elections this fall and the belief that the democratic party is the only instrumentality that offers the American people a return o fhonesty in the administration of public affairs. Enumerating some of the scandals and election frauds that have occurred in recent years, he declared, "There is no place in the United Senate for a Texas democrat who votes with the enemies of democracy." In the same connection he made clear his position as a democrat in party affairs. "I am a Democrat," he said, "and I shall support the nominee for President of the Democratic National Convention of Houston, whoever he may be. It has been my uniform practice to support the nominee of my party."

The Marlin Congressman was entirely definite in his declaration of opposition to the Ku Klux Klan and other secret organizations invading the province of government and was as opposed to groups or blocs that seek to dominate the government. He said, "I have never been and never expect to be a member of the Ku Klux Klan. I am opposed to secrecy in politics or government. One of the dearest traditions of America is that its constitution guarantees to every citizen religious freedom, free press and free speech. Secrecy in government is contrary to the genius of a free people. It was against the closed doors of the secret Star Chamber of the King that the champions of English liberty hurled their attacks. The secret court of the 'Crown was a terrible and tyrannical instrument of oppression of the subject. The courts, legislative halls and agencies of government ought to be conducted without the mask of secrecy. Secret political organizations are dangerous to a free government and to the liberties of the citizen. Sooner or later they are employed by selfish and designing men for their own political or financial or personal gain.

"Government by any group or bloc is an attack on Democratic Institutions. This government belongs to all the people and it ought not to be controlled or dominated by any bloc, faction or interest. Whenever a group or faction undertakes to gain control of the Government or endeavors to secure control of a political party, for selfish advantage it is undermining real democracy and representative government.

"In submitting my candidacy, I appeal to no clique, faction, bloc, group or special interest. My appeal is to all of the Democrats of Texas, as citizens and as lovers of free government. If elected I hall be the servant of all the people and not the tool of any secret or sinister master. My country and its people shall be my only masters."

THORNDALE COMMERCIAL CLUB SETS EXAMPLE BOOSTING LOCAL TRADE; COMMENDS STAND OF CHAMPION

Here is a resolution passed by the Thorndale Commercial Club commending the action of The Thorndale Champion in boosting local industry. This resolution was passed in response to the editorial of the Champion resisting out of town baker shops taking away the trade of the local bakery.

Cameron has a similar situation with Waco bakers bringing bread to Cameron and Houston bakers shipping products here. The Cameron Commercial club should take similar steps:

Whereas the publisher of the Thorndal Champion has written a very able and worthy article in his valued paper concerning the patronage of one of our home industries, The Thorndale Bakery, which article was greatly appreciated by many Thorndale citizens for and because the proprietors of Thorndale Bakery are good an dloyal citizens, turning out a product as good as the best in a very worthy enterprise; now therefore be it

Resolved that the publisher of The Thorndale Champion is and should be heartily congratulated and earnestly thanked for the stand taken and the article written.

Many other worthy enterprises are also being unthoughtfully discriminated against by home people when to do so is like spitting against the wind. When we buy away from home we really discriminate against ourselves. Following are some of the businesses and people who need not expect patronage or help from the city bread man or from other sellers of goods who do not live here: The groceryman, the dry goods man, the hardware dealer, the telephone exchange, the ice man ,the coal dealer, the automobile dealer, the feed man, the meat market man, the oil mill, the rea estate man, the restaurant, the hotel, the bank, the garage, the postoffice, the newspaper tailor shop, the service station, the man, the seller of fruits, vegetables, poultry, livestock, farm produce, cordwood and the like; the doctor, druggist, the confectionery, the schools, public, private or Sunday, also the church. He skips out for rent notices by without attention, whether in the business district or residence section. He passes the insurance man and the dray man as well as the blacksmith, the lawyer and the preacher. He contributes not a dime to the Masons, the Woodman, the Herman Sons, the ladies Clubs, the P-T. A.,—in sickness, in health, rain or shine, hot or cold, he ignores us all. The rail road and the express company he alike ignores. He takes our money to his city and law prohibits us and our neighbors from selling our products on his streets. Without a dime of taxes for their support for their upkeep he uses our local roads and sends to us the bill for repair. He goes to the city to shine his shoes and shingle his hair. When he dies he boycotts our undertakers. He is credited with patronizing the scavenger because he leaves his trash to be disposed of by our local people.

Nine times out of ten the local man will give us better goods at a cheaper price. All or most all of us have fallen from grace or back slidden on these matters at times—it is not just one of us. But now, let's have an old time revival and practice that splendid religion called neighborliness for it will work to the advantage of us all in the long run. Let the city fellow have the business of the scavenger, but let the rest of us stick together for Thorndale.

DELIVERIES FOR DODGE EXCEED FACTORY OUTPUT

HIGH MARK IN PRODUCTION AN SALES REACHED WITH STANDARD SIX

With the added stimulus that has been provided by the introduction of the new low priced Standard Six, retail deliveries by Dodge Brothers, Inc., for the week ended April 7, in this country and Canada, exceeded factory shipments by 67 units, according to John R. Lee, general sales manage of the company.

Retail sales of cars and trucks totaled 6,232 units which exceeds any week last year and sets a new high mark for 1928. Factory shipments were 6.165. It is significant that domestic dealer reports show an increase in sales of passenger cars of 52 per cent over the corresponding week in 1927. Last week's retail deliveries were 18 pe rcent over those of the preceding week and 32 per cent ahead of those for the same week last year.

"While the public acceptance of the new Standard Six line has met every expectation, as evidenced by the retail sale of approximately 3,000 of these cars in the first eight days upon the market, the heavy demand that is being made for all of our lines is exceptionally pleasing," said Mr. Lee.

"The Senior Six is rapidly finding its place in the higher class passenger car field, and judging from recent reports, it will undoubtedly be necessary to substantially increase our production schedules on this line. During the past week, retail sales of the Senior Six gained 37 per cent; over the preceding week while the Victory Six model which have been great favorites with the buying public since the day of their introduction again added a 23 per cent increase to their already many sales records.

"In addition, a continued heavy demand holds up for our Graham Brothers trucks and commercial cars. We are exceedingly optimistic over sales prospects for the second quarter."

Southwestern Host To 200 Guests For Easter Week End

Georgetown, Texas, April 9, 1928—Southwestern University was host over the Easter week-end to more than two hundred guests, most of whom were high school seniors invited personally by Southwestern students. These guests were carried through a two day program which began in chapel Saturday morning and ended with the senior tea and reception at the Women's building Sunday afternoon. Over twenty Texas towns were represented.

Throughout the program of the two days, the Spanish motif was carried out. On Saturday afternoon in the Women's building a Spanish tea and reception was attended by the out of town guests and the citizens of Georgetown. The Mexican Orchestra from Weslyan Institute, San Antonio under the direction of Professor Dorantes, was the feature of entertainment for the afternoon and evening. At six o'clock the visitors were guests at a Spanish dinner in the dining room of the Women's building, after which the orchestra again played popular music and their native compositions.

Sunday was the day set aside for Southwestern Seniors. They went in procession to the First Methodist Church Sunday morning, where the special Easter sermon, "He Showed Himself Alive," was preached by Rev. Edmund Heinsohn, pastor. The seniors were then honor guests at the Women's building at dinner, after which their pictures were taken. From three to five in the afternoon the seniors were honor guests at the annual open-house and reception in the Women's building, to which professors and representatives of the Freshman, Sophomore and Junior classes were invited as sponsors.

Sunday evening the Vested Choir of the First Methodist church, under the direction of Dean Henry E. Meyer presented the sacred cantata ,"The Resurrection."

Other features of the program were serenades by the Southwestern boys, and the Easter egg hunt Sunday morning.

High school seniors from Cameron attending the festivities were: Harriett Flinn, Sue Griffin Webb, Dorothy Denson and Dinks Baskin.

Friends of Eloise Rogers will be glad to know that she is able to be out again after an illness of several weeks. She will return to her work at Baylor University this week.

HISTORY IN THE MAKING

That there are sermons in stones and books in the running of literary faith, but only now is there complete realization of the truth of the statement that the archaeologist of a far-off tomorrow will seek his treasures in the advertisemnts of today.

It was Anatole France who said that advertisements are the modern historian's best materials. The catalogue, newspaper ads, the magazine unrolls before one as luminously as a film on the screen the development of the times. The saga of the customs, clothes, implements and playthings of today will be faithfully depicted in these advertisements excavated some thousands of years hence.

The story of human progress during the past century and a half is unfolded to those who iums of the period. Style changes delve into the advertising medfrom the hoopshirt and bustle of the '70s to the knee-length skirt of today are shown. Development of the electrical age, the telephone, elctric light, phonograph, player-piano and radio; progress of locomotion from the high-wheeled bicycle to the automobile; the safety razor and the farm tractor, all are shown in illustrations and detailed descriptions.

There is no better textbook of near-ancient history than the advertisements, but for the study of current history of fashion in newspaper advertisements, and millions of both sexes follow in the contemporary development of the automobile, furniture, radio and every other marketable product.

THE THINK SHOP

Thinking is a human process that is much neglected. People do many things in life entirely leaving out the element of thought.

This world would be a much better world, a much better place to live in, if each person would simply put his thinking cap on and wear it at the performance of each deed, significant or seemingly inconsequential.

In the the office, in the shop, in the home, in the social arena, in public places, everywhere, thought would play well its part.

The think shop is one of the most important properties of the human makeup. Lack of proper thought promotes misery, worry, discontent, sadness, suffering, ignorance and hundreds of things that should be destroyed rather than promoted.

The man who thinks is the man who does things efficiently and it is likewise with the woman who thinks. The boy and girl brought up in the habit of careful thinking is the boy and girl who will mean most to America.

Wounded feelings, shattered careers, demolished hopes, slouchy work, determinations to revenge and all sorts and kinds of failures may at once be prevented by the simple application of proper thought.

Time and money may be saved if one will but think when about his immediate task. Matrimonial missteps may be prevented by right and proper thinking. Many careers may be brightened and made more useful and larger by merely allowing thought to invade the territory of proper execution.

Since thinking is such an important and necessary element in the business of life, it should be fully resorted to by all the people, all the time. Therefore THINK.

A GOOD RESOLUTION

What would happen if an employe of a bank should tell its patrons to do their banking business elsewhere, or if a salesman in a store should whisper to the customers that prices were lower and quality higher at another mercantile establishment? In either case the disloyal employe would lose his job and the respect of all.

But isn't the citizen who trades out of town just as disloyal to his home town as the employe who deprives his employer of business? Those who buy by mail or go away to shop are telling the patrons of their town that they could do better elsewhere. They take away from the home town merchants not only their own business but that of others.

Like bargain hunting and window shopping, buying at home, with practice, becomes a good habit just as out of town trading grows upon one as a bad habit. And it is feared that most mail order and other foreign buying is from force of habit rather than from any hope of profit or gain in satisfaction. Seldom is there a legitimate excuse for trading elsewhere than at home.

What would be the dividends payable to you if every citizen on December 31, 1928, could truthfully say he or she had not violated a community resolution for 1928 to 'buy it at home?' The extra dividends that would accrue to the benefit of the community and each of its citizens would be more business for its merchants, more money in circulation, more employment and more prosperity for all.

Take pains with your work or you will get pains out of it.

A native is one who feels privileged to butcher his own language.

When a man leaves his wife she hasn't lost half so much as she thinks she has.

The joy of doing something for yourself is doubled if you know someone else wants you to do it.

When denying yourself some pleasure, be sure you gain at least as much as you lose.

A RESOLUTION

Red Stripe Balloon

THOSE HUSKIES

"Got to have a set of those huskies." We often hear such a remark—and from men whose experience has taught them that Dayton Red Stripes are tough customers—standing up under terrific road punishment and sustained high speeds—as no other tires will. There are many reasons why. Dayton "REDS" are heavier—have stouter cords, laid closer together—have more gum rubber between plies—have extra plies— have stronger beads—and NO Reclaimed Rubber in them whatsoever. Take our advice. Next time you buy tires—let them be Daytons.

Last week former United States Senator D. B. Hill, in a legal argument before the New York Court of Appeals, denounced President Roosevelt in scathing terms for his connection, while governor, with the special franchise act. He said that Roosevelt gave way to the clamors of socialists, most of whom paid no taxes and that this was due to his limited experience in the management of affairs. The court made no comment on the stractures.

C. H. Yoe was in Calvert last week on business.

In one corner of the tray was the State seal, also of red, white and blue. Although, it was made Wednesday afternoon, the moist sand preserved the freshness and beauty of the flowers and was much admired by all the people who attended.

WHAT WE THINK

By FRANK DIXON

People must have something to howl amout, so they had just as well howl about one thing as another.

Just so long as they howl it will be all right, but when they begin to screetch, then it's for the woods.

Color is the spice of life. Now we have the kitchen stove pink, green, orange, blue—any color to match the wall paper or the cook's dress. And that's not all—the colored bath tubs are a dream and are so alluring, the modern bath rooms have alarm clocks in them to awaken you out of your trance their beauty creates. Wouldn't that make your blood pressure jump?

There are at least six men in America that 'Do Know Women," for I note all the buying done for the thousands of Woolworth stores is done by six men.

Some business firms who aim to please should do a little target practicing.

The goal of every man is to make money faster than his family can spend it. A few succeed.

I'm not sure, but I sometimes wonder if I wouldn't have been rich if I'd stayed single—anyhow a fellow can think what he pleases sometimes.

This girls basketball is great—it's sure ought to make fine training for bargain counter rushes.

I was in a college town the other day and I noticed the derby hat rage is on. Strikes me all these fellows need now is canes and they're ready for their Di-plomas.

The announcement that Flo Ziegfeld has decided to try plumper girls in the Follies should bring some farm relief (corn fed girls.)

Heard often nowadays in the barber shop—"Don't cut my hair too short or folks might think I'm my wife."

Every time any one man puts a new idea across, he finds ten men who thought of it before he did. But they only thought of it.

I've often wondered if fishing makes men liars or is it that only liars fish.

Witness has it about right, ladies, for "When you get a man with no bad qualities, you don't seem to have much of a man."

The trouble with most towns on the trade at home proposition is that each fellow thinks that it means the other fellow.

Why worry, no use at all, grab all you can while the grabbing is good.

Ninety-eight per cent of the people work for the other two per cent. The two per cent of the people are soon forgotten when they shuffle off this terrestial sphere, the ninety-eight per cent are forgotten before they shuffle off.

We desire to knock on the resolution of sympathy where a crowd of folks attempt to convey their sympathy en-mass. It is hackneyed, formal and trite. The better way is for each individual of the organization who feels that way about it, to send a little informal note expressing personal regret and sympathy.

But especially do we desire to knock on that type of resolution which begins, "whereas it has pleased the divine creator of the universe." We desire to knock because we do not believe that there is anything pleasing to the creator about it. We have a feeling that there is as much regret in the high places of heaven when a useful life is cut short of its earthly career and its period of usefulness and good work ended here below, as there is among the earthly friends who are called upon to sever earthly ties.

Most old folks no doubt remember the "sugar tit" used in old times for peeved children. Well, it would be a good thing to ressurect, but not for children, but for older men, some of them in high places. Maybe a nursing bottle would do.

If true love doesn't run smooth, certainly the other kind doesn't.

The man who works and spends his money is the one who counts and we couldn't get along without him.

"A man is an animal that writes," says Homer. Pray tell, dear Homer, what is a woman that don't talk?

First Chevrolet Is Turned Out Of New Southern Factory

The first Chevrolet car ever built in Dixie rolled off the assembly line Friday, April thirteenth, when the mammoth new Chevrolet factory in Atlanta—the largest automotive institution in all the South—swung into operation to supply the Southeastern states.

In the presence of a group of notables, including city, state and civic officials, the first Southern-built Chevrolet was welcomed to the land of cotton and sunshine by Governor Hardeman of Georgia and Mayor Ragsdale of Atlanta. Representing the Chevrolet Motor Company were W. S. Roberts, plant manager and L. S. Costley, regional sales manager.

Flashing from the assembly line, its lustrious finish glistening in the sunlight, number one caught every eye as it was quickly driven out to make room for number two which was coming up immediately in the rear. Over the driveway shed it went as an admiring crowd followed to make further inspection of the car that is the herald of a long line to follow in succeeding weeks.

City officials present at the formality commented on the significance of the event, its importance, not only to Atlanta but to the entire Southeast and joined in the opinion that the huge Atlanta plant would be a leading factor in increased industrial activity in the south.

Constructed at a cost of more than $2,500,000 the plant covers 32 acres and has 410,000 square feet of floor space. It has an assembly capacity of 350 cars a day, or more than 100,000 a year. Following the Chevrolet policy of recruiting workmen from the community in which its plants are located, it will be almost exclusively a Southern institution, its 1,300 employes being residents of Atlanta or nearby cities. The payroll will approach $3,000,000 annually.

Production will be on a basis of 2000 cars for the last half of April with the May schedule calling for six thousand cars.

Strategically located for shipping purposes, the plant is equipped to make rapid deliveries to the six Southeastern states it will serve, including Georgia, Florida, South Carolina and parts of North Carolina and Tennessee.

The factory is served by the Southern Railroad Company, which has six lines of tracks adjoining the plant for storage cars. Accomodations have been made to handle as many as 300 cars at one time. Two other tracks lead directly into the Chevrolet plant proper and one track into the Fisher Body unit.

In all the plant embraces six units: The main building which includes Chevrolet and Fisher Body assembly, a three story office building, driveway shed, loading dock, parts warehouse and pump house.

The first spade of dirt preparatory to the start of construction work, was turned the day following Thanksgiving The Seaboard Southern Construction and the plant opened 19 weeks later. Company, general contractors, worked night and day shifts to complete the plant in the comparatively brief space of time. Erection of the factory was superintended by Harry W. Calender, construction engineer for the Chevrolet Motor Company, who directed the work continuously since Thanksgiving Day.

In addition to Mr. Roberts, plant manager, the following officials are now in charge: W. J. Sullivan, Superintendent; E. J. Gleason, manager of the Fisher Body division and H. J. Schmidt, resident comptroller.

The Atlanta plant provides Chevrolet with eight domestic assembly plants throughout the country, an export plant at Bloomfield, N. J., and manufacturing plants at Detroit, Bay City, Saginaw, Flint and Toledo. In addition to Atlanta, assembly plants are located in Flint, Mich., Tarrytown, N. Y., Norwood, O., Oakland Cal., Buffalo, N. Y., Janesville Wisc. and St. Louis Mo.

Harper Kirby Dies Suddenly In Austin

Austin, Tex., April 16.—R. Harper Kirby, 67, retired capitalist and chairman of the Texas 'constitutional democrats,' gave his life today for rigid prohibition—the cause he had espoused through life.

Five minutes after completing a long conference with Governor Dan Moody, head of the 'harmony democrats' in which the two chieftains sought to cement the party in Texas and iron out differences, Mr. Kirby died in his home near the capitol.

The fallen leader left the governor's office, briskly, apparently forgetting his waiting automobile. He walked to his home, seated himself on a sofa and slumped. Physicians' efforts to revive him were futile. Death was attributed to heart failure.

Mr. Kirby's physicians had advised him to cease his efforts as director of the organization, warning him that a weak heart overtaxed might be fatal.

Bridge With Mrs. Flinn

Mrs. Eber Flinn was hostess to the bridge club, composed of young matrons, last Friday afternoon naming Miss Agnes Henderson as honoree. Tables were arranged for the games, in the living room and dining room that were made bright and cheerful with baskets and bowls of beautiful spring roses. After three games were played each married woman present was then asked to give hints of advice learned from experience to the young bride-to-be. These she was bidden to keep hidden away in her heart to use at times when good advice is needed.

High score was won by Miss Katherine Flinn, a butterfly door knocker. Low was given Mrs. Stanton Dossett, a novelty tray. They each presented these to Miss Henderson. The honorees' gift from the hostess was a hand embroidered linen luncheon set. The hostess served ice cream baskets with cake.

TWO-MINUTE SERMONS

By REV. GEORGE HENRY

DISSATISFACTION

At a banquet of the Chamber of Commerce in Plainview, an ex-president quoted me as saying, "Let us be tremendously dissatisfied." Now I do not remember having said this thing, but it has been my thought. The man who is satisfied has reached the end of his activity, the end of ambition, the end of development. He becomes like a pool of stagnant water—scum rises to the top, ooze settles beneath it. God forbid that before our eyes we should ever cease to hold our ideal; that we should ever cease to strive for something better than we have attained. A "tremendous dissatisfaction" with ourselves and our attainments will spur us on to greater achievement. The self-righteous alone are satisfied. Swinnerton has said that "a man may be satisfied with his circumstances, but not with his achievements, and the man who is satisfied with what he has done, has no future but the dust-bin."

Smith Will Not Go To Houston

Asheville, N. C. April 16.—Gov. Alfred E. Smith of New York, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, said Monday he would not attend the national convention in Houston, Texas, next June.

Smith said his decision not to attend was final and he would not change his mind.

"No," he said when some one suggested he might after his decision. "I mean that I will not attend.'

Smith conferred with Judge Frank Carter and Judge Thomas Jones of Asheville during the day. Both men are ardent Smith leaders in the State.

Replacement Parts For Old Ford Still Takes Third Capacity

Detroit, April 16—The manufacture of replacement parts for the millions of Model 'T' Ford cars still in daily use continues to demand nearly one third the production capacity of Ford plants here.

Ford officials estimate, from reports of dealers all over the country, that there are still approximately 8 millions of the Model 'T' cars in constant use in the United States. Some of these cars are many years old. Every now and then there are reports of Ford cars of the old brass-bound radiator types of twelve or fourteen years ago, still running after more than a hundred thousand miles of service.

The newest of the Model 'T' Fords is now nearly a year old, for the production of assembled Model 'T' cars was suspended in May 1927 to make way for the new Model 'A'.

This suspension of assembled Model 'T' cars did not affect the production schedule of Model 'T' replacements parts, however. Throughout the past year the manufacture of Model 'T' parts continued to occupy about one third the production capacity of the Ford plants.

A few days ago newspaper correslong he expected to continue making pondents here asked Henry Ford how parts for Model 'T' cars.

"Until the last Model 'T' is off the roads," Mr. Ford replied promptly. Then he added: "That may be ten years, but we do not intend to allow any Ford car ever to become obsolete as long as it can be made useful with reasonable replacements."

Ford engineers, from tests and observations made over a long period of years, have estimated that the average useful life of a Model 'T' Ford car is about seven years.

Bridge Party

"All the world is divided into two classes of people, the fats trying to get lean and the leans trying to get fat." This old saying was the inspiration for a very unusual party given at the home of Mrs. John Watson, when she entertained the Bridge club on Friday, April 13th. This was a calory party and invitations worded thus were mailed to Bridge Club members and a few friends.

"Will you come to the home of Miss Smarty,
She's having a calcry party,
Now what may that be?
Well, come and you'll see
And be sure that you R. S. V. P."

Bridge Club with Mrs. John Watson, Friday, April 13, 3 p. m.

Many answers were received to this invitation, most of them couched in rhyme and curiosity made most of the guests accept the invitation. Upon arrival a large poster was found on the front door, with the following inscription:

"Lula Hunt Peters, M. D., Office hours, three to six p. m.

Guests were met at the door by Mrs. James Watson and conducted through the clinic where the hostess, impersonating the famous doctor asked very impertinent questions of each guest. Each guest was found to have some incurable disease and were advised in all seriousness to Count Calories. After each victim had run the gauntlet o fthe clinic amid much merriment among the waiting patients, all were found to be sufficiently improved to play a few games of bridge.

For this afternoon's pleasure the living room was adorned in pink roses, the library in red roses and anaryllis, while in the dining room and conservatory blue larkspur was at vantage points.. Here, laid out on the dining table, the unique score cards were placed, each representing some favorite article of diet, magazine pictures with verses below, being on each card. Sugar, pickles, nuts, mayonnaise, celery, lettuce, tomato fruitcake, angel food cake, chicken, ice cream, butter, bread, coffee and candy.

Fruit Cake

"Double, double, toil and trouble
Maker of three chins,
The favorite dish of all the fats,
And also of the thins."

Pie

Pie is a favorite dish
Be it lemon, potato or mince
Do you like to be told it is fattening dear,
Or do you prefer "just hints."

Candy

When one is trying to reduce
Tis almost a vain endeavor
To pass right by the candy jar
And say "I'll eat thee, never."

Similar verses adorned each score card and places were found, the fats pitted against the leans. After six hard fought games, Miss Beth Jeter was found to have the highest number of calories among the club members while Mrs. Swift was high among the guests. Miss Rose Rischar won low among club members and Mrs Graves among guests.

A decorated tin box containing an angel food cake was given Miss Jeter with the following verses:

You may reduce your waistline, your hips or double chin,
Your overhead expenses, your calves (twould be a sin)
But if you consume the calories contained within this tin,
Your're sure to reduce your chances of ever getting thin."

But Beth took the cake.

To Mrs. Swift ,was given red lilies, tulle tied. Miss Rischar received bath salts, sweet but void of calories. Mrs. Graves was given embroidered pot lifters with the following admonition:

"When calories are hot,
And it falls to your lot
To lift them from the pot
I'm Johnny on the spot."

A salad plate with iced punch was served at the conclusion of the games, the clinic being closed as a "non paying proposition."

Honors Miss Henderson

One of the many lovely social courtesies complimenting Miss Agnes Henderson whose marriage has been announced to Mr. Ernest Douglas Beard, was given last Saturday afternoon by Mrs. James L. Coleman and her mother, Mrs. J. W. Coleman at the home of the latter. The rooms of the home were so beautiful with a profusion of spring flowers combined with roses of pink and red in baskets forming a lovely setting for the games of bridge that were enjoyed during the afternoon. Table accessories also featured baskets filled with flowers.

High score prize was given Miss Helen Flinn, a club set of cards who presented it to the honoree. Mrs. Jas. Coleman assisted by her young son, Jimmie, served a dainty two course luncheon with an ice on a beautifully decorated tray centered with baskets of sweetheart buds. Mrs. Coleman presented Miss Agnes Henderson, the honoree with a basket filled with useful kitchen utensils. Mrs. Stone of Mt. Clement, Michigan was an out of town guest.

Resolutions of Respect

Cameron, Texas, April 12, 1928.

Whereas, on the 31st day of March, A. D. 1928 the Supreme Ruler of the universe, the Father of all men, in His infinite wisdom, who doeth all things for the best, has taken from our midst our brother and friend Quinn Walker, who was a good citizen, kind and affectionate father, gentle in his dealings with his fellow citizens, and a true and loyal Oddfellow, living and showing by his daily life the principles taught by our beloved order:

Therefore, be it resolved, by Cameron Lodge No. 56, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, that our Lodge has lost a true, faithful and loyal Oddfellow, and the advice and counsel of this brother who was a regular attendant upon most of our meetings for the past number of years; and the citizenship of Cameron a true and loyal citizen always standing for the right, upholding the best interests of good society; the County of Milam a true and loyal officer who had served in the capacity of County Surveyor for about 32 years.

That a copy of these resolutions be furnished to our dead brother's family and also spread upon the minutes of our lodge and a copy be furnished the Cameron Herald for publication.

Respectfully submitted,
W. W. Chambers

To The Voters of Milam County

It comes to my attention that a rumor is being circulated among the voters to the effect that I am now or once was a member of the Ku Klux Klan.

I wish to thus publicily deny that statement. I am not now, never was and never expect to be a member of the Ku Klux Klan. Any statement by any party whomsoever to that effect is undoubtedly made for the purpose of influencing votes, and I want the voters to know the exact truth.

If I am elected sheriff I expect to administer the duties of that office without fear or favor toward any man or set of men. I expect to give you an administration that will be absolutely impartial, and to render to the people a service that will reflect honor upon the county and credit to myself.

I cordially solicit the vote and support of every citizen.

Respectfully,
J. T. PRUETT,
Candidate for Sheriff of Milam County.
Rockdale, Texas.

CRACKLINGS

Most critics and knockers are competitors or rivals and the average critic is a fellow who has failed to do much of anything.

The same brand of curiosity that made the Garden of Eden famous had some influence on the Follies' success.

If you have a hot, burn'em up letter to write someone, write it, and tear into them, give them all you have, sign it, put it in an envelope, stamp it, and then address it to yourself. Next morning when it comes back in the mail read it. Ten to one you won't send it and what you do write will be business-like and correct. I know a very prominent executive that makes it a rule that whenever his secretary finds any letter he has written which is curt, cutting or abusive in the least she has instructions to hold it over until next day and place it on his desk for another reading.

I know a mother and dad who have a rule they faithfully abide by. It's this: If they are angry or perturbed, they wait two minutes in another room before correcting their children. Try it. If you are strong enough, you're better than I am.

Look around town some day and note two things. How many of the men in business started from scratch, climbed to where they are by plugging. Now note these few and see if they are not real fellows, he men, the fellows most everyone likes (when they truly know them.)

Of those who got their starts from dad or grand-dad, how many have increased their holdings? Can you find one who has multiplied this in equal proportion to the fellow who plugged it through, that is equally an all around man? If you spend a little thought and time on this with an open mind you will get a revelation—try it.

There's nothing like getting accustomed to things, take smiling and happiness for example. If these two faults are not in your nature, cheat yourself into believing that you are a happy smiler, for one month. Habit is a great little sticker.

Jim Reed of Missouri says there's one thing the Republicans always bring up once a year that brings boyhood happy memories to his mind—it's Mellon-cutting.

Imagination discovered America and imagination has developed America. That's not all imagination has done. I have a sneaking idea one of the reasons it's hard to tell the mothers from the daughters now days has something to do with imag-in-ation.

Is there such a husband, who says to the woman he married, "your child" when he's good, "my child" when he's bad?

The Sunday Star tells of a woman who, by industrious dieting and exercises had reduced her weight forty pounds. By the way what is something nice to say to a lady who has lost 40 pounds—tell her she doesn't look it, or that she does?

Things are never as bad as they might be. Let us be thankful that women really do not look like the horrible caricatures pictured in the modern fashion magazines.

You are boosting yourself or your business everytime you make a deal—provided you are courteous, obliging, friendly, cheerful. It pays to be a booster and it is the little things that count. A cheerful smile is better than all the sarcasm you can muster. It is the little things that advertise you, for an advertisement merely tells the people of some service you are in a position to render. The better the service, the more room to advertise. People have plenty of troubles of their own and do not care to be growled at or to listen very attentively to any recital of your difficulties. Therefore if you want friends, be friendly. If you desire courteous treatment, be courteous. This kind of advertising boosts business and does not have to be paid for at display rates, either.

Birthday Party

Little Wayburn Gunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Gunn of Houston and who with his parents were the guests last week end of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. DuBois, celebrated his third birthday at their home last Saturday afternoon with a party.

On account of the heavy rain and sleet all morning the party could not be had on the lawn but an indoor party was enjoyed. All the down stairs rooms of the large home were thrown into one big room and with bright sparkling fires all was to warm and make things cosy for the little tots. Many games were enjoyed and stories were told by Mrs.R oy Law and Mrs. J. B. White. After play time was over all the children formed in a long line and marched to the kitchen, singing "Happy Birthday Wayburn." The birthday cake was two tiered with white icing embossed with pink rose buds topped with three tiny pink candles. The cake rested on a table that was once owned by Wayburn's great grandfather.

The children were first served animal crackers placed on soda crackers on a mound of candy. Cream cones were served with the cake. In the cuts the emblems were found by the following children: Wayland Kidd, thimble; Joe White and Katherine Monroe, wishbones; Sam Tyson, heart; Bobbie Collins, dime and Willard Skelton, ring. Mrs. DuBois was assisted in serving by Mrs. Gunn, mother of the little honoree and Mrs. Roy Law. Wayburn was the recipient of many useful and beautiful gifts. Favors for children were balloons, whistles and stick candy.

Mrs. Miller Entertains

Mrs. Conn Miller was a pleasing hostess to a number of friends last Thursday at her home on North Travis when she entertained with 42. The home is beautiful and attractive and needs nothing to enhance its beauty but roses and amaryllis placed in wicker baskets gave floral charm and bits of color. In four rooms were set ten tables with score pads and tallies each in basket design. After the games tables were cleared and laid with lovely napkins to match. Table favors were door stops in basket shape made of red oil cloth, filled with vari-colored flowers of the same material, the handiwork of the hostess. The party plate contained brick cream in colors, topped with fresh strawberries, angel food cake baskets, decorated to feature the basket motif. Plate favors were tiny baskets in pastel shades filled with salted nuts. In the cuts these fell to Mesdames Jim Baskin, S. Kes-Eber Flinn, Tiff Moore and Miss Agnes Henderson, Earl Bragg, Mary tenbaum, M. G. Cox, Vernon McIntyre, Alice Porter and Aetna Smith. Mrs. Miller presented Miss Agnes Henderson, a bride of the month with a hand painted plaque.

Court Proceedings

The case of J. S. Barmore and J. L. Barmore vs. Marble Falls Textile Mills Company plea of privilege to be sued in McLennan County was overruled and defendant accepted and gave notice of appeal.

The Court of Criminal Appeals has refused J. A. Claxton leave to file a second motion for a rehearing and this ends the case wherein he stands convicted for the killing of Otto Junek.

Henderson Walker was appointed County Surveyor Thursday by the Commissioners Court to fill out the unexpired term of his father, Quinn Walker, deceased.

The Commissioner's Court approved the report of the jury of view for the public road from the Cameron and Rockdale Highway via of Bethlehem school house to the Rockdale and Tracy road and appointed Scott Baldridge as overseer to open road.

Mesdames W. G. Gillis and John Muse, delegates to the Presbyterial that convened in Georgetown and Mrs. John Green returned Wednesday. The Presbyterial will meet with the Cameron Presbyterian church for the 1929 session.

MISS BESSIE MANLEY DEAD IN AUTO WRECK

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD AT MINERVA FRIDAY AFTERNOON, APRIL 13

Funeral services for Miss Bessie Manley, 14 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Manley of Minerva were held at Minerva Methodist church at three o'clock Friday afternoon April 13, 1928 with Rev. Ritchie of Buckholts and Rev. Pharr of Maysfield conducting the services.

Miss Manley was instantaly killed 1928, while returning home when a near midnight Thursday, April 12, car driven by Paul Scheihing crashed into the car driven by Miss Manley, Vivian Edwards and Preston Armstrong. The accident occured about five miles north of Rockdale on the Cameron-Rockdale highway. The car driven by Mr. Schiehing of Rockdale was a large Cadillac and was occupied by himself and two companions, it was said. The car in which Miss Manley was riding was a Ford. Miss Manley and her companions were on their way to the Edwards home from Cameron and had driven past the town of Minerva to take Miss Edwards home. The big car running at a rapid rate of speed, according to Preston Armstrong, rounded a curve at a rapid rate of speed and before any of the occupants of the car had time to clear the roadway, the crash came.

The body of Miss Manley was picked up about 50 feet from the scene of the wreck. Passing motorists found the body of Miss Manley some distance away. She was dead. Armstrong and Miss Edwards were brought to the Cameron Hospital and Scheiehing was taken to his home in Rockdale. Neither of the two other occupants of the car were injured, it is said. Schiehing was unconscious. Names of the other occupants could not be learned.

The accident is the sixth fatal car tragedy in recent months in Milam county. Investigation is being made by the authorities.

Miss Manley's death is an almost unbearable shock to the mother and father and to her many friends. She was popular and had recently united with the Methodist church.

The funeral directed by the Green Bros. firm in Cameron was largely attended, friends and neighbors who knew Miss Manley gathering at the little church in Minerva where the last sad rites were had. Her body under a mound of flowers was intered in the Minerva Cemetery.

The Herald extends sympathy to the bereaved family, relatives and friends.

The women of the Christian church met for a short business session conducted by the president, Mrs. James Neinast. Mrs. N. M. Ryan then very ably taught the Bible lesson.

MISS GEORGIA CASEY BURIED AT NORTH ELM

MANY MOURN PASSING OF SISTER OF ALBERT CASEY HERE

Funeral services for Miss Georgia Casey, 60, who died at the home of her brother, Albert Casey, in Cameron Monday April 16, 1928 were held at the First Baptist church Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock April 17, 1928 with the pastor Rev. E. S. Hutcherson, conducting the services, with interment in North Elm Cemetery, the Coleman-Eplen undertaking firm directing the arrangements.

Miss Georgia Casey was gorn at Oneaville, Texas, in Bell county, December 7, 1867 and died at five o'clock a. m. Monday April 16, 1928. She was ill only a few days, her death coming as a shock to her family and neighbors and friends. She had spent most of her life in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Casey, having lived a few years in Temple. In the home of her brother she was given the love and protection of a beautiful home life and her death is a great sorrow in the life of Albert Casey who is the only remaining one of the children of the father's first marriage.

Of the immediate family there were Albert and Edward Casey, by the first union and by the second there were born five brothers and four sisters as follows: Richard Casey, W. L. Casey, J. W. Casey, Mrs. W. H. Thompson, Mrs. R. S. Jacks, Miss Tinny Casey, J. T. Casey, Mrs. S. T. Hester and A. C. Casey.

At the age of 24 years she became a Christian, uniting with the Baptist church and at the time of her death was a member of the First Baptist church in Cameron. She led a Christian life, and was gentle and unassuming, her nature and ideals endearing her to the hearts of all who knew her. She will be greatly mourned in the home where her gentle graces had been inspiring for many years.

Among the brothers and sisters who came for the funeral are: Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Casey of Dennison; Mrs. W. H. Thompson of Temple and Miss Tinny Casey of Dallas.

Kiddies Please Big Audience; "Birdie's Ball" Is Presented

"Birdie' Ball" presented by pupils of the Kindergarten assisted by pupils from the second, third and fourth grades of the school, was one of the pleasing entertainment of the month and brings into popular appraisal the talent of the children of the Cameron schools.

This operetta was presented at the auditorium Friday night, April 13.

The genius of composition features Miss Ethel Jenkins, talented teacher in the school. She composed the play from the song "Birdie's Ball" and her success in this effort has brought forth many compliments. The music was directed by Miss Lucille Peterson who enjoys a fine distinction for her talents also.

The song is taken from nursery rhymes and the costumes were fashioned from pictures and were the handiwork of Miss Dallie Young, popular kindergarten teacher. Associated with Miss Young was Miss Irma Porter who gave much talent to the success of the play.

The stage decorations were superb in scheme and color. Little Miss Jeanette McIntyre of San Antonio, grand daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Smith Sr., sold the largest number of tickets and was given as a prize a photograph of herself in bluebird costume. She attended kindergarten as a visitor for several weeks.

J. C. Mayfield is thanked for lending an electric Singer sewing machine to make the costumes. A large number of people saw the play.
